Limited and Sole Warranty is subject to the following conditions:

- A. Proof of purchase is needed to validate warranty.
- B. Warranty is only applicable when products are properly applied and installed according to EC guidelines and specifications, by the Contractor or applicator listed on the warranty. The failure to adhere strictly to EC guidelines and specifications renders this Limited and Sole Warranty null and void.
- C. EC reserves its right to inspect and verify correct installation and application for the sole purpose of issuing or validating this Limited and Sole Warranty. The Building Owner, Contractor or applicator listed on the warranty is solely responsible for the installation and application and shall not rely upon EC, or hold EC responsible, for the installation or application.
- D. The warranty is only effective when all materials and services are paid in full.
- E. The warranty only covers specified product failure when properly applied and installed and does not cover leaks caused by skylights, roof jacks, pipes, ductwork, conduit, cooling/heating systems, scuppers, flashing details, chimney’s, parapet walls, improperly prepared or unsuitable substrates. This warranty covers product replacement only and does not cover any structural or other damage caused by roof leaks.
- F. Building Owner must perform and document routine maintenance every six – eight months in order to keep EC products uncompromised.

- G. All EC warranties must be validated by a qualified EC officer.
- H. Warranty form and information must be completed and turned into EC within 30 days of project completion.

EC only warrants products manufactured by EC.

Maintenance and Care Guidelines

Congratulations on choosing premium products manufactured by Everlast Coatings to protect and extend the serviceability life of your roof system. To fully benefit from your investment, you will need to follow the maintenance program listed below:

- A. Maintain all records relating to this roof, including all receipts, product information, guidelines agreements, invoices, repair and maintenance information, etc.
- B. Inspect Roof system and coating at least twice a year, typically in the spring and fall. The most common areas of damage or distress, such as roof transitions, drainage points, penetrations, perimeter flashings and traffic areas. Keep roof system clean and free of all debris. To fully benefit from the reflective value of the Everlast Coatings product, it is best if the roof is washed every 18-24 months to remove any contaminants that will impede reflective qualities of the topcoats.
- C. Inspect for damage from elements after severe weather conditions, such as hailstorms, heavy rains, high winds, etc.
- D. Arrange for prompt necessary repairs to correct damaged not covered by the standard Material Warranty that would affect the roof surface and substrate. All repairs should be performed by a Everlast Coatings approved applicator, with approved products and repair methods.
- E. Examine all roof penetrations, duct work, masonry or stucco walls, mortar joints, pitch pans, expansion joints, metal flashings, roof edge details, skylights and roofing substrate, to ensure water tightness. Properly repair to prevent water intrusion.
- F. Minimize foot traffic. Designate walk path areas on the roof to minimize damage that can be caused by foot traffic. Regularly inspect these areas and make any necessary repairs.

It is the responsibility of the building owner to ensure proper maintenance and care guidelines are followed, to ensure the Everlast Coatings Material Warranty remains active. The Maintenance and Care information listed above is intended to address most of the possible conditions on a standard roof system other conditions may require special maintenance considerations. We are grateful that you have chosen our premium quality products to protect your investment and maintenance is required to fully benefit from your investment.
